COUNTY BOARD URGES SCHOOLS TO END MAY 25

A recommendation that all rural schools terminate May 25, thereby suspending for the 1944-45 school year all days less than the 180 ordinarily required by law, was made by the county board of school directors meeting in regular monthly session Monday evening.

Many persons picture these young men who wing through the blackness to knock down the enemy's night raiders and shoot up Nazi trains and supply columns as carefully-screened aviators with catlike vision. They think these men live behind dark goggles like a movie star and eat special vitamin A rich food to help them see better in the dark.

A visit to the airbase from which the most successful night fighter squadron operated cured me of such illusions. Most of what has been written about these men is just plain corn on the cob.

Eat Army Chow

Dark goggles are as scarce as oranges on this rainy, wind-tormented field where shivering men wade to their planes through calf-deep mud that never dries. And if any of these very normal and highly courageous fliers ever got an extra vitamin A on his plate he never recognized it. They eat regular Army chow.

These fliers are distinguished by their "eager beaver" morale and their toasty turvy life. They sleep by day and fight by night.

Since it became operational July 3 in England this outfit—a crack fighter squadron—has shot down seven enemy planes, probably destroyed eight more and damaged three. It also has shot down four flying bombs and strafed many tanks and transport columns.

"We flew more than 700 missions before losing a man," Capt. Edward S. Page, Jr., Baltimore, the squadron intelligence officer, said proudly.

DISASTER UNIT CONFERENCES HERE ON DEC. 5

Glenn L. Bream, chairman of the local American Red Cross disaster relief committee, announced today that John E. Wenrick, Red Cross disaster representative for the eastern area, will be in Gettysburg December 5 to hold a number of conferences.

Wenrick will meet during the day, beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning, with each of the individual sub-committee chairmen at chapter headquarters on Baltimore street. A meeting of the entire committee will be held in the court house at 8 o'clock in the evening.

A number of public officials and representatives of other organizations have been invited to the evening meeting and are expected to attend. They include Judge W. C. Sheely, chairman of the county Civilian Defense organization and a member of the advisory committee for the Red Cross disaster group, and Burgess Fred G. Pfeifer, an advisory committee member.

Advisory Group

Other members of the advisory group are Gettysburg Fire Company President James B. Aumen, Paul Spangler, County Farm Agent M. T. Hartman, and C. A. Wills, president of the Gettysburg National bank. Spangler is the Red Cross representative at the Civilian Defense control center.

Other members of the disaster group include: Arthur R. Buehler, disaster vice-chairman; LeRoy Winebrenner, survey and rescue chairman; Dr. Bruce N. Wolff, medical aid chairman; George A. Bender, central purchase and supply chairman; Miss Mary Ramer, shelter chairman; Mrs. R. S. Saby, food chairman; C. W. Epley, transportation and communication chairman; Mrs. Earl Bowen and her staff assistants, registration and information; and Paul L. Roy, fund raising and public information chairman.

County Chairmen

The chairmen and co-chairmen of county districts were listed as follows:

Arendtsville, E. D. Bushman and W. A. Raffensperger; Bendersville, W. B. Delap and Maurice E. Dugan; Bigerville, E. Blaine Walter and John Deardorff; Cashtown, Daniel Mickley and R. Dale Bream; East Berlin, E. N. Gruver and Charles R. Phillips; Fielder, Arthur Moore; Gardners, Hilbert Hoffmann and Elmer Tromp; Littlestown, Roger J. Keefer, McSherrystown, Albert E. Weaver; New Oxford, R. W. Livingston; Orrtanna, W. F. Yoder and Blaik C. Biesecker; and York Springs, William Weldner and Clair F. Ditzler.

He has notified his parents he is forwarding the Bronze Star medal, the Sicilian Campaign Ribbon and Good Conduct medal to them.

$443,688 IN BOND SALES: FEW REPORTS

Adams county is a little more than $50,000 short of a half-million dollars worth of war bond sales in the Sixth War Bond drive. It was announced today at War Finance Committee headquarters.

Sales reported from approximately one-half of the issuing agencies in the county totaled $58,114.75 on Monday the fourth highest day's total since the start of the drive eight days ago. Today's grand total is $443,688.50.

Several agencies in the county have only made one report since the drive started and some committees have not compiled their figures since the starting gun.

The same condition prevails in the Women's Division headquarters in the lobby of the Hotel Gettysburg.

Ask Daily Report

"Very slight improvement" was reported today in the condition of Clair Reinecker, 13, of Aspers R. 1, and Joseph T. Peterson, 14, Emmitsburg, both of whom were shot Saturday with .22 calibre rifles.

Both boys remained patients at the Warner hospital. Reinecker, who was shot through the brain, was still unconscious this afternoon. The Peterson youth, son of Mrs. Rose Peterson, was conscious.

A report of the incident near Emmitsburg made late Monday afternoon by Trooper Bruce A. Bruchey of the Maryland state police, differed from the first stories of the occurrence. Trooper Bruchey said that Peterson and Maurice Fitz, Jr., 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fitz, of Emmitsburg, were hunting rabbits about a mile and a half north of that city.

As the boys walked over a field on the old Emmitsburg dump, Fitz, who was walking in the rear, began loading his rifle. Just as he had put in the cartridge and closed the bolt, Trooper Bruchey related, Peterson turned around and began to walk toward Fitz. Fitz's gun came in contact with Peterson's body and went off, the bullet going through

Pfc. Ira D. Sease Is Reported Safe

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Sease, Fairfield Station, received a letter from the War department this morning telling them their son, Pfc. Ira Doyle Sease, returned to his company safely on November 12.

The War department had previously notified Mr. and Mrs. Sease their son had been missing in action since October 28.

Pfc. Sease has been serving with an infantry outfit in the Fifth Army in Italy. He entered the service in February, 1942, and has been overseas for about four years.

TELLS STORY OF MILTON HERSHEY FOR LOCAL LIONS

The background and scope of the enterprises of Milton H. Hershey, the chocolate king who has built the "most unique" community in the world, was traced for members of the Gettysburg Lions club and their guests by R. A. Rockwell, for many years head of the agricultural research program on the Hershey estate, at a ladies night meeting Monday evening.

The meeting was held in the parish house of Grace Lutheran church at Two Taverns. Ladies of the church served turkey dinner to the 85 clubmen, their ladies and other special guests. President J. Milton Bender and Vice President Glenn L. Bream presided.

Tracing the growth of the Hershey business from a 30 acre field and experimentation in candy making to its growth to be the biggest chocolate factory in the world with a production capacity of 20 carloads of candy a day as the chief enterprise on the 10,000 acre estate.

Provision For Future

"Education, recreation, Christian training, agriculture and industry work together at Hershey to form a self-sufficient community where no one need go hungry if he is willing to work—even if there is an economic crisis in the nation," Mr. Rockwell asserted. "Nothing is wasted there."

Mr. Hershey entered the chocolate business at the age of 50 after three financial failures and final success as a candy manufacturer in Philadelphia, the speaker related. He made special mention of the Hershey program for orphan boys who have farm environment, elaborate educational opportunities in the industrial school and "a job, two suits of clothes and $100 at the age of 18 when they are ready to start out for themselves." After the war, Hershey will be ready to handle 2,000 orphan boys.

The speaker listed many of the public benefactions from Mr. Hershey to the Hershey community and said future development of the Hershey wealth will be handled by a perpetual board of directors.

D. E. Hess, a member of the club's committee in charge, introduced the speaker. Group singing was led by Richard B. Shade.

IMPORTANCE OF MENTAL HEALTH CARE STRESSED

Mr. and Mrs. Warren K. Enck, of Biglerville, accompanied by their niece, Miss Virginia Troxell, of Fort Monmouth, New Jersey, where they visited their son, Lt. Thomas Enck. While there they attended graduation exercises at which their son received his commission as a second lieutenant. Lt. Enck accompanied his parents home for an eight-day leave after which he will return to Monmouth.

He said new hospitals for mental cases will have to be built in Pennsylvania and pointed out that "out of this war will come thousands of mental cases that will require years of treatment." Mental cases by the thousands from the First World war are still with us, he reminded the group.

State and county clinics for mental cases can help relieve the burden of cases on state institutions, he stated.

Re-elect Kinsey

He asserted that mental age rather than physical age will determine a child's entry and progress in school and that more attention will be given generally to special education for retarded and for brilliant pupils. State departments are equipped and ready to aid local communities in health problems, he observed.

Miss Mary H. Jones, eastern Pennsylvania representative of the PCA, and Miss Mildred Coyle, school nursing advisor for the state department of Public Instruction, addressed the group briefly.

During a brief business session Paul A. Kinsey was re-elected as chairman of the county committee. Dr. Robert A. Brum was named as vice chairman and Mrs. Verna Myers was re-elected secretary.

January 29 was announced as the date for the next meeting.

Discharged Seaman Is Located Here

A 20-year old discharged merchant seaman and patient at the Bedford, Massachusetts, Veterans Administration hospital, being held by borough police for return to the hospital.

He was picked up Sunday afternoon by Borough Officer Clark W. Staley. He carried no identification, and when questioned was incoherent. He was able to tell the police, however, that he had a sister living in Pittsburgh. Officers from the local station of the state police sent a teletype message to Pittsburgh city police who located the sister.

She identified her brother and said that he was discharged from the Merchant Marine after serving for six months. Since that time, she said, he has been a patient at the Bedford hospital.

OFFER PRIZES

3. A United States Treasury citation will be awarded to any person who sells 10 bonds to 10 different people.

Honors for individual high school pupils will include the following:

1. A service bar and star will be awarded to high school pupils who sell six bonds of any denomination to six people.

2. Additional stars may be earned by those who already have the service bar, by selling 10 bonds to 10 individuals. Each set of 10 will entitle the student to an additional star.

3. A $25 bond will be awarded to the high school pupil who sells the greatest number of bonds to the most number of people. The total value of the bonds sold will count only in case of a tie.

General Prize

4. High school pupils will be eligible for the general prize of one war bond for the person in the county who sells the most bonds to the most people.

Application blanks and bonds may be obtained from banks, post offices, rural mail carriers or issuing agencies. Rural teachers must place their orders in advance and must have the cash and information about the subscriber at hand when the rural carriers deliver the stamps, stamp albums, and bonds for their schools.

Under the equipment and plane campaign, the schools have been asked to decide upon the goal, or the amount which is believed can be raised through bond and stamp sales at the school. The campaign should be registered with the county War Finance Committee and should designate definite opening and closing dates.

Fix Closing Date

Goals must be reached during the announced campaign period and only sales to individuals may be counted. Goals may be increased during the campaign only, and unless the county chairman is notified of the change in the objective before the close of the campaign, only the equipment selected can be mentioned on the citation to the schools.

In group I, the schools successfully completing a campaign will be awarded a special equipment citation. It was pointed out that double credit may not be taken when stamp books are converted into bonds.

Those schools successfully completing a campaign for equipment in Group II

ALLIES COUNT SHIPPING LOSS THROUGH 1943

Washington, Nov. 28 (AP)—Shipments of the Allies and neutrals from the beginning of the war through 1943 totaled 5,758 vessels aggregating 22,161,000 gross tons.

The British government released today through the Office of War Information a year-by-year breakdown of losses by Britain, the Allies, including the United States, and neutrals, presumably in the service of the United Nations. Simultaneously, the war shipping administration announced United States losses totaled 753 vessels aggregating 3,311,000 gross tons.

In the period covered by the announcement, the United States constructed about 30,000,000 dead-weight tons of merchant ships, roughly offsetting the losses.

Favorable Ratio in '44

The Maritime Commission in its construction reports used dead-weight tons as a measuring stick, while today's report spoke in gross tons. A merchant ship's deadweight tonnage is somewhere in the neighborhood of 30 per cent greater than its gross tonnage.

(Gross tonnage—the entire capacity of a ship expressed in units of 100 cubic feet to the ton; deadweight tonnage—the carrying capacity of a ship, including supplies as well as cargo, expressed in long tons, 2,240 pounds.)

The report covered losses to enemy action, as well as Marine casualties resulting from perils of the sea.

No figures were given on losses for 1944, but the ratio of construction to losses is known to be extremely favorable.

'42 Losses Heaviest

The combined losses of Britain, the Allies and neutrals in 1942 far outstripped United States construction, and may have exceeded all construction available to the Allies since this country had the major role in merchant shipbuilding.

By 1943 the picture was changed entirely. Against losses of 2,646,000 gross tons, this country produced 19,238,626 deadweight tons, or about 13,000,000 gross tons.

This favorable ratio presumably is continuing into 1944.

The United States began losing ships in 1939, the first year of the war in Europe. Between September and December of that year, four American vessels went down.

BRITAIN COUNTS COSTS OF WAR

Washington, Nov. 28 (AP)—Five years of war have cost England 733,030 casualties, 136,116 among civilians. One out of every three houses in Britain has been destroyed or damaged.

These figures are among many in a statistical white paper released simultaneously in Washington and London today.

The White paper reported that more than a third of all British men between 14 and 64 are in the armed forces and that nearly half of the country's women between 14 and 59 are in uniform or in industry.

By the end of last year Great Britain lost 11,500,000 gross tons of shipping, two-thirds of the tonnage she had when war broke out in 1939.

Civilian casualties through last September 3 included 57,295 killed. Casualties among the armed forces totaled 563,112 with 176,081 killed. In addition 29,629 merchant seamen have been killed and 4,173 interned.

Chicken Comes Before Egg, WFA Order Decides

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 28 (AP)—Which comes first: the chicken or the egg? The chicken. The government wants fewer eggs and more chickens for eating.

The War Food Administration tells this story:

There's a shortage of cooking chickens on the east coast but no shortage of laying chickens anywhere.

So—the government wants 50 million of those laying chickens sold as cooking chickens.

That would provide chickens to fill present eating needs. And it would mean fewer eggs next year. There were too many this year.

The main producing areas for broilers and fryers are in Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, parts of West Virginia, parts of Georgia, and Arkansas.

Plans this year called for raising 201 million broilers and fryers to fill civilian and military needs. But 223 million were raised.

Warns Of 'Poison' Of Secularism

Pittsburgh, Nov. 28 (AP)—Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert, general secretary of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, asserted today that all Christians must unite to combat what he termed the "poison" of secularism in modern life.

Addressing church leaders representing 25 denominations at the opening of the Federal Council's biennial meeting, Dr. Cavert said:

"This is the time for magnifying the Christian faith that we hold in common. If in other generations we could put the emphasis on our denominational particularisms, this is a day when it is of supreme importance to manifest to the world how great a unity there is within the Christian family."

MARK CLARK IS PROMOTED

London, Nov. 28 (AP)—Elevation of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark from commander of the U. S. Fifth Army to commander-in-chief of the Allied 15th Army group in Italy was announced here Sunday night as part of a general shift of the Allied leadership in the Mediterranean.

In other changes, Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, who has been Allied commander in Italy, becomes supreme commander in the Mediterranean, succeeding Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, who in turn takes the place of the late Field Marshal Sir John Dill as chief of the British joint staff mission in Washington. The announcement from Prime Minister Churchill's office, 10 Downing Street, said the appointments "are the result of agreement between the Prime Minister and the President of the United States."

Who is to replace Clark as Fifth Army commander was not immediately disclosed.

It also was announced that Alexander had been made a field marshal, effective June 4, 1944, the date of the capture of Rome.

Alexander, 53 on December 10, thus becomes Britain's youngest field marshal. The date of his elevation in rank makes him senior to Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, whose appointment was effective September 1.

Slight Gains On Italian War Front

Rome, Nov. 28 (AP)—British troops, outflanking the Po Valley town of Faenza, have reached the Lamone river at a point three miles southwest of that Bologna-Rimini highway stronghold and are pressing against a new main German delaying position, Allied headquarters announced Monday.

The village of Belvedere was taken.

Production in both bituminous and anthracite fields is far ahead of 1943 due to the absence of work stoppages and "an honest effort by the miners to do all they can while working," Mines Secretary Richard Maize reported today.

Fatalities at the same time are on the decline with 138 in anthracite pits for the first 10 months this year and 134 in bituminous diggings compared with 186 and 148 respectively in 1943.

CANADA'S HOUSE IN SECRET MEET

Ottawa, Nov. 28 (AP)—The House of Commons was called into secret session today in a Dominion-splitting conscription issue following a declaration by Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King that lack of a "reasonable" unity on the question might lead to anarchy in Canada.

The 69-year-old Premier told Parliament last night that he would resign if he did not get strong support in a vote of confidence to be taken later in the week. He insisted that this support must include members of his own badly-split Liberal party.

He appealed especially to the wavering French-speaking members from Quebec, who reflect the nationalistic province's opposition to conscription for overseas service. He called for an end of racial divergencies which have been a bar to complete Canadian unity since the Dominion's earliest history.

Even as King spoke, these differences broke into anti-conscription demonstrations as far away as British Columbia on the west coast and as near as Lansdowne Park just a mile and a half from Parliament Hill here in Ottawa.

Countian Refuels Big Forts Overseas

(Special to The Times)

Sgt. Rodney A. Poist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Poist, McHenry, serving with an Eighth Air Force Composite command station, somewhere in England, is in charge of a twin-trailer refueling unit for B-17 Flying Fortresses.

As a refueling unit operator Sgt. Poist is assigned the task of seeing that the big bombers are refueled promptly after landing and ready to take off at a moment's notice.

Sgt. Poist is finding his civilian experience a great help in performing his Air Force duties. Before entering the Army in December, 1942, he was a Pittsburgh operator for the Pennsylvania Greyhound Bus Lines, driving most of the time between Pittsburgh and Gettysburg. In eight years of this work he had a record of no accidents, and, likewise, has maintained a "clean slate" with the Air Forces.

Sergeant Poist has seen 18 months of overseas service, three months of which were in Newfoundland and the remainder in England.

Banner Year For Coal Production

Harrisburg, Nov. 28 (AP)—Pennsylvania's coal industry is enjoying a banner year despite the manpower shortage.

Revise Procedure For Emergency Oil

A revised procedure for issuing fuel oil of hardship rations to consumers in this area was announced today by the Harrisburg district OPA office.

No increase in regular rations is involved, OPA emphasizes. Instead as was the case last year, a hardship ration will be issued only to consumers who have taken all reasonable measures to conserve oil but still need more for heating and hot water in order to avoid undue hardship.

The principal change made is that after an application is approved, local War Price and Rationing boards will issue a hardship ration sufficient to meet the consumer's needs for the balance of the heating season rather than just a ration sufficient to tide him over until the next regular coupons become good. This will relieve boards of having to review repeated applications from the same person in successive heating periods. It will save dealers numerous small deliveries and will be more convenient for consumers.

dents to "co-operation between operators, miners and the department of mines in working out safety measures."

Bituminous output through October was 122,594,000 tons, against 114,846,000 for the same period last year, hard coal production reached 52,910,000, compared with 49,148,000.

The announcement from Prime Minister Churchill's office, 10 Downing Street, said the appointments "are the result of agreement between the Prime Minister and the President of the United States."

The Germans appeared to be preparing to fight another house to house battle.

Northeast of the town still other British units moving northwest from Eda occupied Scaldino and reached Alberto, between the Rountine and Lamone rivers.

Farther southwest Polish troops gained a foothold on the Ridge between the Marzeno and Lamone rivers.

On the Fifth Army front south of Bologna American and British forces repulsed several German counterattacks.

Abbottstown

Abbottstown.—Edward Krout slaughtered four hogs Thanksgiving day, all weighing over 400 pounds. The heaviest was 465 and the lightest 405. Assisting him were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Krout, Emigsville; Mr. and Mrs. George Krout and children, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Krout, Thomasville, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Little, Abbottstown.

The annual thanksgiving service was held by the ladies of the Missionary society of Emmanuel Reformed church Sunday morning. The infant daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Krout and Mr. and Mrs. John Kinneman were baptized.

Miss Jean Hollinger, student at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hollinger, Sr.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Union Services Well Attended: Rev. J. B. Baker delivered the sermon Thursday morning to the largest audience that ever attended union Thanksgiving service in Gettysburg in the Presbyterian church.

The opening services were conducted by Rev. F. E. Taylor, Rev. William R. Glen and Dr. A. E. Wagner. Dr. J. A. Singmaster explained the work that was being done by the Civic Nursing association.

Speed was indicated not only by the general acclaim which greeted President Roosevelt's chosen successor to Cordell Hull but also by the urgency of pending international problems, headed by the need to complete the Dumbarton Oaks plan for world security.

Chairman Connally (D-Texas) summoned the Senate Foreign Relations committee to meet tomorrow and Vice President Wallace said he is confident "the Senate will support the President's choice by confirming him unanimously."

Hetzell-Butt: At 8:30 o'clock Monday morning in St. Francis Xavier church, Miss Laura Butt, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Butt, of near Gettysburg, and Charles Hetzel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hetzel, of Mt. Rock, were married by Rev. W. F. Boyle.

The bridegroom is employed as a rural mail carrier in the Gettysburg Post Office. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Redding.

Hurt at Silk Plant: Dewey Orner is confined at his home near Bigerville, suffering from a strained back which he received recently while helping to erect the new J. H. and C. K. Eagle plant on Buford avenue.

Open Dancing Academy: Announcement has just been made here that Professor H. P. Woltz and his wife, of Waynesboro, have rented the Battlefield Hotel and have converted the dining room into a dancing floor. They expect to hold dances there twice each week.

Will Get No More Coal: The Gettysburg furniture factories have felt the effects of the last order of the Fuel Administration which prohibits the delivery of coal to any industry other than those essential and named in the five priorities. The local factories have received notice that no more orders from them for coal will be filled at the present time.

This we do know: within the clay
Something that's of us, day by day,
Clings, and will cling till flesh is still,
To what it meets of good and ill.Thus, is it destiny or fate?
By what we choose we love and hate,
Enjoy and suffer, face and fear
And fashion character and career.

Today's Talk

APPRECIATION AND IMAGINATION

I look upon appreciation and imagination as two of the most valuable assets with which a human being can be born. Without them little of any consequence matters at all.

The poorest and humblest—with the ability to appreciate and imagine—may indeed be richer than the richest in material gain, and certainly happier. To appreciate is to drink of the substance of life, and to have imagination is to be creative, and to ride upon the dreams that the great of the earth have known.

More people work and strive for appreciation than people who do the same thing to gain material possessions. No one can go very far, or gain much, without this appreciation, and the more one gets the more one is able to give in return. Many a great human being has died of broken heart for lack of appreciation.

And then there is that appreciation which we drink in and give out—appreciation for every form of beauty, for life itself, for the essential things of life, and for the privilege of living under a free form of government. We must not forget that we are actual owners, in part, at least in every thing that we see, love and appreciate. None of us could go very far or be very happy with the appreciation of others, for what service we may be able to render, in some way or other.

No one can create, or build, without imagination. Most of us attempt things that we see already done. The objective of our dreams and imagination may be very far away, but it gets closer and closer, and becomes more real, as we approach it. It is amazing what the imagination can accomplish.

Imagination has kept people from being drones, dunces, and duds and has built cities and nations, as well as turning wastes and deserts into blossoming gardens and productive food acres. There are no cobwebs in the imaginative mind, and people surprise themselves and their friends, as well, when their efforts are appreciated.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Difficult Tasks."
